

Sarah Goodridge Hospital

and

Nurse Training School

Southwestern Christian Advocate

A hospital for the colored, having a capacity of thirty-two beds, all medical, surgical and obstetrical cases received by the regular staff, or, if the patients prefer, their regular physicians may attend them same as in their home. The management aims, at all times, to make the surroundings as homelike and the rules as liberal as is consistent with the general welfare.

Upon the completion of the proposed new building we shall need to register some twenty or thirty new nurses in the Training School. If you are a girl and desire to become a nurse, write for an application blank and full particulars. If you, or any of your friends, should be in need of the advantages of hospital attention, write the Superintendent for terms. Address all communications to

Dr. R. T. Fuller

1566 Canal Street
NURSES AT RICHMOND

New Orleans, Louisiana

Fifth Annual Convention of National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses Well Attended—Miss Mary F. Clarke Elected President.

Special to THE NEW YORK AGE.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 3.—The fifth annual convention of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses was in session here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. There were between forty and fifty nurses in attendance, coming from different sections of the country. Miss Mary F. Clarke, president of the association, presided over the deliberations of the body.

There were many excellent papers read during the session, among which were "General Nursing," Miss Gussie V. Williams, Superintendent of Richburg, S. C.

The officers elected were: Miss Mary F. Clarke, president; Miss M. Davis, first vice-president; Miss E. C. Christie, Chester, Pa., second vice-president; Miss Florella Porter, Orangeburg, S. C., recording secretary; Miss C. S. Morgan, corresponding secretary; Miss M. R. Tucker, treasurer. The installation address was made by Dr. H. L. Harris.

There was a social side to the convention Tuesday evening when the alumnae and ladies' auxiliary tendered the delegates a reception. Thursday evening the Richmond Medical Society tendered the body a reception and dance. The next meeting of the association will be at Norfolk, Va.

COLORED NURSES MEET

Fifth Annual Convention Held in Richmond, and Interesting Program Observed.

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—The Fifth Annual Convention of the National Association of Colored Nurses, was in session here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. There were between forty and fifty nurses here in attendance, coming from different sections of the country. Miss Mary F. Clarke, President of the Association, presided over the deliberations of the body. There were many excellent papers read during the Session, among which were "General Nursing," Miss Gussie V. Williams, superintendent of Richmond Hospital "Homes for Nurses," Mrs. W. A. Frazier, Washington, D. C. "Mental Nursing," Mrs. Ada Franklin, Petersburg, Va.; "Special Nursing," Clara Rollins, Washington, D. C.; "Chronic Nursing," Miss Bessie Hunter, and "Nursing in America as a Profession" Miss E. Miller of Philadelphia. Others who read papers were Miss M. E. Baltimore, Harrisburg, Pa.; Miss M. A. Sandusky, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Ida B. Easton, Virginia and Dr. W. H. Hughes, Richmond.

The address of welcome was made by Prof. D. Webster Davis and the response was by Miss Florence Fordham of Orangeburg, S. C. The officers elected were: President, Miss Mary F. Clarke, Richmond, Va.; first vice-president, Miss M. Davis; second vice-president, Miss E. C. Christie, Chester, Pa.; recording secretary, Miss Florella Porter, Orangeburg, S. C.; corresponding secretary, Miss C. S. Morgan, and treasurer, Miss M. R. Tucker.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at Norfolk, Va. Freedman Hospital Nurses Graduate. Special to THE NEW YORK AGE.

Washington, May 14.—The annual commencement exercises of the Freedmen's Hospital Training School were held last Friday evening in Rankin Chapel, Howard University. The diplomas were conferred by Dr. William A. Wayfield, surgeon-in-chief of the hospital. The graduates: Misses Carrie Oneita Abner, Marguerite E. C. Butler, Elizabeth F. A. Carter, Estella A. Christian, Sarah E. Eaton and Mary A. Simmons.

PHILADELPHIA, PA. 2-22-

Regular Correspondence of THE AGE. 12

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 21.—Miss Anna H. Reeves, 1511 Lombard street, daughter of Dr. John B. Reeves, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, was appointed last week by the Elementary Schools Committee of the Board of Education, as a nurse for public schools, at a salary of $750 per year. Miss Reeves has been a volunteer worker in the schools for three years.

Christian Recorder 8-8-12

Miss Adah B. Samuels, Assistant Superintendent of Training Schools at Lincoln Hospital, and Mrs. Rosa Williams, head nurse at the Colored Orphan Asylum, at Riverdale, N. Y., have sailed for Germany to attend the International Convention of Graduate Nurses.